If asked to name the best of all WWI posters, many knowledgeable collectors and dealers would cite the Lusitania "Enlist" poster by Fred Spear. The others would pick this magnificently graphic tour de force by H R Hopps. Brilliant multicolor full sheet 28 X 42. A huge ape with fanged teeth, a German spiked helmet labeled "Militarism" and a bloody club "Kultur". He wades ashore on "America" with the burned out ruins of Europe in the background. In his other arm he holds a long haired beauty with both burned out ruins of Europe in the background. In nis other arm he holds a long haired beauty with both breasts exposed. "Enlist - US Army - 660 Market St." In the lower margin are the names of the nine lithographers and bank note companies that financed the enlistment campaign. One minor 3" tear at top has been repaired on back side. It goes into the top of the T in Destroy. Overall condition is superb. In 28 years as a full time dealer I have only seen one other example, on another dealers website at over $12,000. example, on another dealers website at over $12,000. Outstanding full color wood block poster with zouave and flag. In expensive custom frame 22 X 28. Elected Governor in 1866. Printed by King & Baird, Phila. Few light speckles lower right corner, near mint.

I sold this in a previous catalog, but the jerk who bought it strung me along for many months with no payment. Annie Oakley cabinet photo by Brisbois, payment. Anne Oakley cabinet photo by Brisbois, Chicago. Imprinted signature on lower mount. Signed in ink above rifle barrel "Compliments of Annie Oakley 9/22/1893". This was when she was appearing at the Columbian Exposition. A bit of light soiling/foxing, fine plus. I've owned four signed Oakley cabinets, but this is the only one I've had signed on the front the front a normal frame. Very minor discoloration lower left corner, excellent. 2,250. One of the best pieces of political glass I've seen. Heavy 7" footed goblet with finely detailed copper wheel cut decoration. A raccoon sits on fence with dead rooster in his mouth. This is the classic design seen on many Henry Clay silk ribbons. Reverse side "A Weaver - 36" Ward" inside intricate wreath. I believe this is Philadelphia, but Baltimore might also have had that many wards. Pristine mint. 9,750. Rare half sheet printed in London, blk/wht on red background. near mint. on linen. 5,000.

4,850. Unique tintype copy of the exceedingly rare Lincoln image taken by Alexander Hesler June 3, 1860. Ostendorf #27. Most unusual in that it is on a re-used sixth plate with a ghost image of a soldier on the back side. In a signed Hesler pushbutton case, the embossed velvet pad reading "Hesler's Metropolitan Gallery - LaSalle St. - Chicago". Excellent (light wear to case).

The only collectible decoration for bravery from the French & Indian (Seven Years) War. Silver medal (for officers) for the 1758 assault on Louisbourg by General Amherst and Admiral Boscawen. Yery rare 13"dark blue platter "Pickett's Charge-Gettysburg". Central scene of battle, rim with portraits Meade, Lee, Hancock, Longstreet, amidst oak leaves & acorns. Reverse with fancy eagle/shield logo & title. David Arman always suspected this piece was made in the US by an unidentified potter. Others assume that it is British, but the acorn border is unknown on any other items. Pristine mint.

Very rare 5¾ 18th century folding knife carved of bone and horn. While others have called these Hessian soldiers and attributed them to the Revolutionary War, I believe it actually depicts a grenadier of the French Revolution. Carved bone headgear, face, hair queue and epaulets. Horn center section with arms and sword. Excellent condition - minor crack at rivet on one ankle hardly bears mention.

Lysique, bistorical entograph album signed by

Unique historical autograph album signed by over 600 prominent citizens of San Francisco and presented to Abraham Lincoln in honor of the Emancipation Proclamation. First three pages are an elaborate presentation done in brown and red calligraphy. "San Francisco Aug 24 1864 - to his Excellency Abraham Lincoln, President of the US the undersigned, attendants at the fair of the Ladies Christian Commission for the Pacific Coast...solicit your Excellency's acceptance...modest tribute of our regard...appreciation of eminent services performed in behalf of our country and of humanity during your in behalf of our country and of humanity during your administration...your greatest work and the consummation of American Liberty. History will record the doings of the sword directed by your wisdom...New Orleans, Donelson, Antietam, Gettysburg...but with more power than the clashing of steel and the roar of artillery will sound the words made law by the use of your pen on that memorable New Years Day... That all persons held as slaves are and henceforward Shall Be Free...God Save the Republic!" Following this are about 40 gilt edged leaves with the signatures, and after this 10 more pages signed by citizens of Sacramento. Included are Mr. & Mrs. Leland Stanford, Collis Huntington, Dept of Pacific commander Irvin McDowell, the mayor and loads of local politicians, and even two visiting Chinese dignitaries. The Daily Alta Californian of Aug 24 had an article about the festivities. Some wear to hinges and spine, but all intact. Contents excellent. Brown leather covers stamped in gilt with quill pen, inkwell and autograph album.

a stick. Great condition with just the slightest insignificant soiling. 12,500. Outstanding large 34 X 37 poster printed in blue/wht with double line blue borders. Under plexiglass in expensive matching blue frame (not shown). Some scattered short tears that have been mended on the reverse with archival tape. Note that the horizontal line seen in the bottom section is an original fold that reflected the sunlight and is not a tear. Overall fine plus condition and one of the best suffrage items I've had! 4.000.

The best Civil War recruiting broadside I've seen. 29 X 42 woodblock print in amazing full color. Plattsburg NY. Lettering in alternating blue/red/black. Graphic multicolor scene of cavalry charge on Confederate artillery battery, printed in black/blue/green/yellow/red. On old linen, displaying scattered separations, old fairly minor tears and a few small losses (under 1"). Overall condition VG, but a nice framing would make it fine. An outstanding

Another superb recruiting broadside, black on yellow, 29 X 42 on old linen. Fine plus, scattered minor wrinkles, bit of minor chipping at edges. The yellow paper has turned white in a few scattered spots, mainly on the right edge, but this is of little importance. Great scene of cavalrymen with swords.

23 Original Thomas Nast cartoon 13 X 20 (sight) in expensive 22 X 29 gilt frame (not shown), linen mat with gilt inner molding. Drawn on light weight card stock and signed lower left. Accomplished in pencil with added india ink and gouache on hair, mustache and eyes. He looks familiar but I can't place him - no doubt an 1870's New York politician. Old repaired tear across ear and nose. Note that the white spot seen at edge of hair line is a reflection, not on item. I think this is the only original Nast I've had in 28 years.

This is really nice! Brilliant multicolor litho on canvas that you would swear is an original oil painting. 22 X 34 in nice frame 27 X 39. Coldwell Lawn Mower Co, Newburgh NY. Cute girl in sailor dress drives large mower on grounds of Onwentsia Country Club, nattily dressed golfers and caddy on lawn. Circa 1905-1915, virtually mint. 2,250. The earliest piece of 'Americana' I have had. A massive silver bar from the time of the early 16th century conquest of Mexico and the Aztecs by Hernando Cortez. This is from one of the most historic shipwrecks ever salvaged - the so-called 'Tumbaga' wreck, sunk off Grand Bahama Island around 1530 (thought by some to be the 1528 wreck of the Concepcion). Cortez conquered Montezuma's capital in 1521, and for the next 15 years ships were sent home laden with the looted riches of Mexico. sent home laden with the looted riches of Mexico.

The 'Tumbaga' bars are a mixture of silver and copper cast into irregular bars for shipping during the earliest years of Spanish conquest. The bar offered here is HUGE - weighing over 25 pounds and measuring 14½ X 4½ X 1½. The bars were marked with the King's tax stamp, a silver fineness in ley (parts per 2400), and sometimes a serial number and/or the initials of the assayer. The offered bar has four partial tax stamps, the assayer mark Bvo (likely Bernardino Vasquez), a serial number rlxxx, and a fineness of 1550 ley (about 65% silver). Flawless undamaged condition.

After surviving intact for 450 years, it's actually amazing that this bar made it through the 'gold rush' of the Carter era. At the peak of the silver market around 1979-80, this bar would have assayed (melted) for about $10,000. Accompanied by photocopied info on shipwrecks, the tumbaga bars and the treasure of the conquistadors.

The general issuance of British campaign medals to The general issuance of British campaign includes to recognize military service to the Crown began after the Battle of Waterloo. The several types of Waterloo medals were the only ones available until the beginning of Queen Victorias reign, at which time the striking of campaign and service medals began in earnest. Since that time, to the best of my knowledge only four British campaign medals have ever been struck in gold, and all four are offered here.

A unique set of four campaign medals for India, struck in solid gold for presentation to Arthur Wellesley, Duke of Wellington, KG, GCB, GCH, and Commander in Chief of the British Army 1842 - 52. The medals are Kelat-i-Ghilzie 1842, Candahar, Ghuznee, Cabul 1842, Jellalabad (type 2) 1842, and the Scinde Medal (Meeanee & Hyderabad) 1843. All are frosted proofs, each in its own two sided fitted glass case with a gold rim, housed in the original fitted display case which allows for viewing of both sides. Overall 13", with fancy etched 8¼ double edged spear point. Ricasso etched "N P Ames-Cutler - Springfield/Semper Paratus". One side of blade etched "Fred Dwight to Horace Cleveland", with a tiger and another unidentified animal. The other side has two hunting scenes. At the top ice bird other side has two hunting scenes. At the top is a bird hunter with his dog. Below that is a scene of a hunter shooting at a bear that has treed him. Fluted ivory grip, coin silver guard. The scabbard is magnificent gold washed brass engraved with a large eagle in a sunburst. Outstanding condition, the only point worth mentioning is that much of the gold wash is gone from the scabbard.

Fred Dwight was a close friend of Nathaniel Ames, and in fact had furnished him with space for his first shop in Cabotville. Horace Cleveland was a famous landscape architect. He authored the book "Hints to Riflemen".
